

RTI APPLICATION OF AKASH AGARWAL

With reference to the subject RTI, please find our reply / views as under:

We observe from CSIS Web Portal that there is no claim of subsidy by PNB for loan account number 410300JB0000007 furnished, for any of the years.

It is the responsibility of respective bank branches to implement the scheme / claim subsidy /upload eligible subsidy claims correctly as per scheme guidelines to all the eligible student borrowers within the time schedule in the respective years and to adjust subsidy to the respective loan accounts whenever it is received. Students cannot claim the subsidy by themselves. If any Financing Bank / Branch does not claim subsidy as per guidelines within the time schedule, concerned Bank / Branch will be held responsible for the same.

We wish to inform that, Canara Bank has been nominated as a Nodal Bank, only for the purpose of administering Central Sector Interest Subsidy (CSIS) Scheme introduced by the Ministry of HRD, Govt. of India, New Delhi and our role as a Nodal Bank is for the limited purpose of consolidating the subsidy claims of Member Banks and forwarding the same to Ministry of HRD, Govt. of India, New Delhi and to pass on the subsidy to the Member Banks as and when it is received from the Ministry. For any disputes or further queries, student has to approach the respective financing bank only.

For further details you may please contact your financing branch and if not satisfied with their response, you may contact their Head Office for further details /queries / complaints, if any. We furnish here below the address and e mail id of Head Office of Punjab National Bank for your reference.
